

Online learning has both advantages and disadvantages.

Essay by Max 10A

I think that lessons at the computer are useful, because you do not need to go somewhere, thereby wasting time, you do not need to get up early and go to school, you just need to turn on the computer. But there are also downsides - you get tired and your eyes start to hurt, most often you have a headache, sitting at a computer is unbearable. Sometimes the internet is bad and you may not hear the teacher explain. Sometimes there is no understanding of what is at stake, etc. I think it is better to study at school, since everything is more understandable and the teacher can personally explain the topic to the student.
